Resolutions of the Farmers' Congress-Meeting Next Year in Iowa.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 17 .-Among the resolutions passed by the farmers' congress was one favoring schemes for improving the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and for a ship canal across Illinois connecting the Mississippi and Lake Michigan. The institute was indorsed and national aid recommended and a National Board of Agriculture demanded. Chicago was indorsed over St. Louis at a place for the World's Fair. R. F. Kolb, of Alabama, was re-elected president and a vice-president from each State was chosen. B. F. Clayton. of Illinois, was elected secretary and Mr. Lawrence, of Ohio, treasurer. The next meeting will be held in Iowa.

A resolution favoring the repeal of the tobacco tax was defeated; also a resolution that the revenue from the whisky and tobacco tax should be distributed among the States to relieve local taxation; also a resolution favoring Government aid to steamship lines to build up trade with Central and South America; also a resolution favoring unlimited coinage of silver; also a resolution favoring bounties to sugar growers. A resolution favoring Congressional investigation of accidents to railroad employes, caused by imperfect brakes and couplings, was adopted; also the following resolutions, which were prepared by Hon. William E. Lawrence, of Ohio, and reported favorably from the committee:

Resolved, That while as now, a protective policy is maintained which substantially protects importations of foreign carpets and many other articles of manufactured goods, we demand that the duties on mutton, sheep and wool of all kinds shall be so increased as to equally prohibit the importation of mutton, sheep and wool of every kind which can, under protection, be sufficiently produced at fairly remunerative prices in the United States to supply all American wants, including the better class of carpet wools, especially as carpets as luxuries are entitled to less favor than farm and ranch products.

Resolved, That the tariff on wool imported to make carpets should at least be as high as that imported to make

Resolved, That if protection to this extent be denied we will call upon the farmers of the United States to assert their power at the ballot box and otherwise to right the wrong and injury of discrimination against them. If they fail in this the wool and mutton producing industries will be so seriously crippled that they will be in a large measure destroyed and the farmers will no longer have any interest in protection for the manufacturers of woolen goods, but will insist that they shall have no larger measure of protection than is accorded to the wool industry, including any kind of wool.

Resolved. That the farmers of the United States are not called upon to support the nomination of any man for in Congress who will not to his utmost ability aid in carrying out the object of the foregoing resolutions.

Resolved that we favor commercial treaties with nations which accept silver as legal tender money as well as has been eloquently told by the delegold and against those which have de- gates themselves through the memonetized silver.

THE BRAZILIAN REVOLT.

The Minister of Marine Not Killed But Badly Wounded-The Cause Due to Abolition of Slavery.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—Dispatches have been received from Rio de Janeiro to the effect that a revolution had broken out in Brazil, and that the Brazilian army was in control of the situation. The Ministry had resigned. The dispatches said that the revolution was an attempt to establish a republic in place of the monarchy of which Dom

Pedro is the head. A dispatch received here vesterday morning states that the Minister of Marine was not killed, as reported, but that he was shot and seriously wounded by rebel soldiers.

A still later dispatch from Rio de Janeiro reports that a republic has been proclaimed, with Senor da Fonseca as President. The Imperial Ministers have been placed under arrest and are kept in close confinement. The provisional government guarantees protection to members of the Imperial fam-

NEARING THE CLOSE.

A Ruling By the Court in the Cronia Trial Causes the Prosecuting Attorney to Rest His Case. CHICAGO, Nov. 14 .- At the opening of the Cronin trial yesterday morning, Judge McConnell announced his decision on the question of going into the past history of the Clan-na-Gael.

The last witness on the stand the previous afternoon was Expressman Brown. He is an ex-member of the Clan-na-Gael. He was asked whether or not he preferred charges against Dr. Cronin in 1885, the State's Attorney explaining that he proposed to show by the witness that this was a fact; that Daniel Coughlin was a member of the trial committee, and that Dr. Cronin was expelled from the organization.

The logical consequence of the admission of this testimony was a complete investigation of the Clan-na-Gael, at least so far as it could be made, to show causes for animosity against Dr. Cronin on the part of any one of the prisoners at the bar.

This offer led to the most earnest and protracted argument between counsel for the State and counsel for the defense that has vet taken place during the trial. Nearly every lawyer engaged in the case on either side had something to say during its progress, and there was much plain speaking. The talk occupied the time till adjournment and Judge McConnell announced that he would hold the matter under advisement and would render his decision yesterday morning. In accordance with that arrangement when the court was called to order yesterday morning Judge McConnell announced his opinion to be that the evidence sought to be elicited from Expressman Brown on the points named was incompetent and ruled it out.

This decision, of course, rendered any further attempt to examine Expressman Brown futile, and Officer McKinnon, of Winnipeg, who was on the stand Tuesday, was recalled. He testified that Burke told him he had assumed the name of J. W. Cooper because two men were watching him.

At the opening of the trial in the afternoon State's Attorney Longenecker said that in view of the court's ruling in the matter of evidence as to past doings of the Clan-na-Gael, the State would only put one more witness on the stand—a man named Chancey, from New York, who, he said, was not now in the city.

It was suggested, in view of this announcement, that the court adjourn until Monday to give the defense time to prepare its case, but it was finally decided to adjourn until Saturday morning, which was accordingly done.

The Pan-Americans Close Their Junketing Tour. WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.-Just fortytwo days after the morning of October 3, when the special train bearing the international American excursion party pulled out of the Pennsylvania railroad station in Washington, the same train, headed by the same locomotive which has drawn it nearly 6,000 miles, rolled triumphantly into the capitol city and drew up at the station, having successfully completed the most President, Senator or Representative interesting and, from a railroad standpoint, the most extensive trip ever undertaken by one train. DR. CRONIN'S EFFECTS.

The Finding of Dr. Cronin's Clothes, Surgical Case, and Other Articles in a Sewer Catch-Basin Lends Fresh Interests to the Celebrated Murder Trial.

CHICAGO, Nov. 9.-The sensation in connection with the all-absorbing Cronin case still centers in the finding of the surgical case and clothes of the murdered physician, and the forging of another link in the chain of circumstantial evidence that clanks ominously around the conspirators. For som time complaints have been made to the sewer department of the Lake View station that the sewer at the intersection of Evanston avenue and Buena avenue was flush and running over. Two or three sewer cleaners were detailed to investigate the cause of this trouble. Michael Gilbert was foreman of the cleaning gang. Mike Reeson was one of his assistants. and W. W. McMillan had charge of a flushing wagon that was taken along to expedite their operations. The three men raised the cover of the man-hole and Reeson was lowered into the hole. He had scarcely reached the bottom when he shouted back that he had found a box. A moment later an oblong box twelve inches long and nearly as broad was hauled out of the filth. Although greatly befouled the box showed evidences of having been varnished and polished, and a brass handle in its center showed that it had been carried like a sachel. Gilbert and McMillan opened the box. One glance at the contents convinced the men that they had at last found the clothing and instruments which Dr. Cronin had carried with him to his death. There was an assortment of extension splints with which Dr. Cronin had provided himself in anticipation of having to set a fractured leg when he reached O'Sullivan's ice-house. Then came a sachel and a bundle of clothing.

The men delved deeper into the filthy mass and found another satchel, the iron framework of which only remained, and which contained a bundle of clothing. A case of surgical instruments, the steel of which was heavily coated with rust, was drawn from the clothing. One of the men summoned the officers of the Sheffleld Avenue station and twenty minutes later a patrol wagon, manned by six officers, dashed over the Evanston road. The bundle of clothing, the instrument box and the sachels were loaded on the stretcher and carried to the station-house and thence Superintendent Hubbard's office. Here more careful examination was made of the parcels. The leather sachel, after having been submitted to a bath under a hydrant, was opened, and the first thing the superintendent drew from it was a book that had swollen to more than cards-Cronin's business cards-which

Satisfied that he had at last recovered the doctor's clothing, Superintendent Hubbard ordered that the dirty mass be removed to the East Chicago station and scrubbed, preparatory to delivering it to the State's attorney. But Judge Longe-necker and his associates decided that it were better to present the stuff before the jury in the condition in which it was found. The clothing and instruments were therefore carted to the State's attorney's office and spread out for inspection. Mrs. Conklin, who saw the doctor disappear with one of the assassins, identified each article as it was placed before her as having been car-ried by the murdered man when he set out for the O'Sullivan ice-house. All the clothing showed that it had been cut from the body after death. The light spring overcoat was slashed from the collar to hem and the sleeeves were torn from the waist to the shoulders. The cutaway coat of diagonal cloth was cut into pieces. The vest was cut in twain as were also the drawers, undershirt and collar. A keen-edged knife had done the work. -Indented writing upon iron has just been successfully done by an Eastern iron foundryman, by the following process: The impression on the iron is made by writing backwards on thin paper in a mold, and then pouring in the iron. The writing thus transferred to the plates, when the iron is cooled, is wonderfully clear and distinct, and is so deeply imprinted as to defy any at-tempt at erasure.

Catarrhal Deafness—Hay Fever—A New Home Treatment.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby Catarrh, Hay Fever and Catarrhal Deafness are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

M. B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an eintment; both have been discarded by reputable physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of three cents in stamps to pay postage by A. H. Dixon & Son, cor. of John and King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Caristian Adeceate.
